- Rimland → 1944, Spykman.
  => opposed to the landbased power.
- Donald. W. Meining → Heartland and Rimland in Eurasian History' → 1958.
- Federalism => Neumann => 1955 "Federalism is seen as one of the device to curb the evil use of power by dividing among a number of competing power units."

OVERVIEW - POLITICAL

- Definition and Scope of Political Geography
- Geopolitics
- Global Strategic Views (Heartland, Rimland)
- Concept of Nation, state, and nation-state.
- Boundaries and frontiers
- Politics of World Resources
- Geography of Federalism.

IMPORTANT TOPICS

Pg. No.

- Heartland Theory
- Rimland Theory
- Geopolitics
- State, Nation, nation-state
- World Political Geography
- Types of Boundary

Mahan
Kjellan's

Heartland Theory

- Sea Power Concept → French Alfred Thayer Mahan (1840-1914)

Books: "The Influence of Sea Power upon History"
The life of Nelson (1897)

- Kjellan's → 'geopolitical instinct'
- Problems of Asia 1910 – by Mahan
  - provide a strategic model which seemed to ~~describe~~ have an explicit relevance to his sea power view.

Mackinder Britisher.

- a leading member of Liberal Party.
- Present his model in —
  1904 in 'Royal Geographical Society'

1904: "The Geographical Pivot of History"

- mackinder wrote "In the present decade we are for the first time in a position to attempt with some degree of completeness, a correlation between the larger geographical and larger historical generalization"

- According to physical formation of Regions
  (i) Buddhism — turned towards Pacific
  (ii) Brahmanism – towards Indian Ocean
  (iii) Mahometanism – turn one towards Indian ocean and another towards Indian Ocean
  (iv) Christianity – in Europe, watered by the Atlantic rains from the west.
  ⇒ together ~~comes~~ 1000 million people.
  – 2/3 of the people of the world.
  – ~~Seat~~ coinciding with Five Seas.

" If Turkic and Tartar nomads, equipped only with the horse and camel could so shape the course of history in the peripheral lands, of the inner crescent, what might not a modern power its mobility enhanced by the railroad, achieve in this respect.?

due to recent political changes

- (i) Rising of Germany as a major continental power
- (ii) Beginning of the war
- (iii) a major part of Eurasia under German dominance
- (iv) emergence of communist system in Russia.

1919 Democratic Ideals and Reality / 'The Heartland'

- possiblity of Japanese controlling pivot area.
- the steppe corridor that joints the Heartland with Eastern Europe.
- possiblity of Russian themselves organizing and developing.
- word 'pivot area' replaced by 'the Heartland'
- "for the purpose of strategic thinking, the Heartland, includes the Baltic sea, the navigable Middle and Lower Danube, the Black Sea, Asia Minor, Armenia, Persia, Tibet, Mongolia"

"Who rules East Europe command the Heartland
Who rules the Heartland commands the World-Island
Who rules the world-Island commands the World."

World Island — Euro-Asia plus Africa consisting of two-thirds of the world's Islands"

- "Mackinder's Heartland thesis seemed to indicate to the geopoliticians the necessity for a detente or even an alliance between Nazi Germany and the chief occupant of the Heartland, Soviet Union"

1943 The Midland Basin (1943)

- recent political changes mackinder again change his view —

- (i) USA involvement in war
- (ii) Russia respondent to German attack joint against germany
- (iii) allied force

1943 → "The Round World and the Winning of the Peace" — in 'the Foreign Affairs', 1943

- cut short size of Heartland and separated from it that part of soviet union lay in river Yenisei.

→ "a rugged country of mountains, plateaus and valleys, covered from end to end with coniferous forests. This part he called 'Lenaland'

→ 'Mainland' — consisting of the North Atlantic Ocean, the Eastern United States, and the Western Europe.

Criticism

- argued the policy of "nuclear deterrence"

- 1904 → The Geographical Pivot of History
- 1919 → Democraphic Ideals and Reality
- 1943 → The Round world and the Winning of the Peace.

'Geography of the Peace'

Rimland

" Nicholas Spykman — "
"Geography of the Peace" (1944)

— The fundamental fact which is responsible for the conditions ... of the world politics is the development of ocean nevigation and the discovery of sea routes to India and America."

Defining the Rimland spykman says " Beyond the mountain barrier, the coast land region which is called by Mackinder the inner crescent may more effectively be referred to as the Rimland.

• Characteristics of Rimland —
— the inner crescent of amphibian states surrounding the Heartland consists of those sections: the European coast land the Arabian Middle-Eastern desert, and the Asiatic monsoon land.

• Spykman about Heartland → a central position with interrior lines communication made powerful and unified by the development of land transportation to a point where it could begin to complete with sea communication.

Knik → to him heartland had played a negative role in the history. He questions

Cohen

"Geography and Politics in a World Divided" 1973
Cohen offers a hierarchical and regional world model.
⇒ allowing the traditional geographical concept
Cohen two region < Geostrategic regions
Geopolitical regions.

The Institut

Geopolitik

- Houshofer borrowed the word 'Geopolitik' from Kjellen's (book - Den Staat als Lebensform)

1924 → Houshofer stated to editing the journal 'Zeitschrift fur Geopolitik' in 1924
→ made the further development of the concept.

'The Institut' → eventually attached to itself able geographers and workers in cognate fields.

- Houshofer asserted that the word 'politik' is not preceded by the prefix 'Geo' by accident.' The prefix relates politics to the earth.

- "a science which deals with the dependance of political events upon the soil."

Territoriality

- owes much of its origin from Robert Ardrey's book "The territorial imperative" (1966)

" is an area of space, whether of water or earth or air, which an animal or group of animals defends as an exclusive preserve.

State → Political entity / fixed territory
comes from latin word 'status'
'I am the state' — Louis XIV

Nation → A socio-cultural entity.
comes from latin word 'nasci' meaning 'to be born' and imply 'common ancestry' and 'place of origin'

Heartshorne (1950) a nation represents a feeling of kinship of belonging together an extension of the concept of family more properly an extension of the concept of the in-groups versus outsiders.

John Stuart Mill — a nation as a portion of mankind united among themselves by common sympathies which do not exists between them and any others.

Nationalism
a feeling of belonging to a nation.
- it is the desire of cultural-linguistic and religious groups to achieve a political status that would give them a limited measures of self-government.

Types of Frontiers (area)
- natural or physical factor
- ethnic or anthropological frontier
- geomatrical or astronomical frontier
- political frontier.

Evolution of Boundaries (line)
(i) arbitary process.
(ii) evolutionary process.
(iii) arbitration process.

- frontiers are geographical in nature
  Boundaries are political in nature

- Frontier - is an integrating factor between states or either side
- Boundary - Boundary is a separating factor.